What's new in Cruising

Cruising is huge – and it's growing all the time. As more and more Kiwis discover the appeal of travelling to exotic destinations on a luxurious ship, the cruise operators are unveiling some exciting innovations to keep you coming back. Here are a few of the latest developments to tempt you onboard.

For those who love the appeal of masts and canvas, the new generation of all-suite mega-yachts from companies such as Windstar Cruises combine the time-honoured traditions of sailing with state-of-the-art power systems. Or if you'd like to take a peek under the waves, the underwater passenger lounge on Ponant's latest ship will give you a dolphin's eye view of the sub-aquatic world.

Celebrity Cruises® has introduced the Magic Carpet, a cantilevered platform that moves up and down the ship's 16 decks. The tennis court-sized platform repositions itself at four of the ship's decks to offer a different experience at each level. Other cruise lines are bringing out their own onboard attractions, including infinity pools, glass-enclosed viewing decks and dedicated culinary centres.

Unique experiences and destinations are also on the menu. If you're a wildlife fan, consider one of Silversea's ornithology expeditions to Alaska or the Galapagos – available on Silver Explorer, Silver Galapagos and Silver Discoverer. Luxury cruising is coming to the Antarctic, while small ship specialists are taking travellers to environmental hotspots such as West Papua. Imagine snorkelling with the whale sharks that congregate in Cenderawasih Bay, the Bay of the Birds of Paradise.

These days, staying in touch with friends and family stuck on land – and even fellow passengers at sea – is easier than ever with more cruise lines providing WiFi services. Charges will vary according to cruise lines. At the very least, this will make it easier to post those "Having a wonderful time" pictures on social media!

Cruising close to home – and with kids

A cruise can be fun for all ages, including kids. And when the children are enjoying themselves, chances are the parents are having a great time too.

The new generation of cruise ships are designed to appeal to families, with plenty of onboard activities to make every day a holiday. As well as traditional deck games such as mini golf and quoits there are exciting alternatives such as laser tag. Movies are available at all hours and dedicated gamers can be pointed in the direction of the ship's gaming lounge for their daily quotient of screen time.

Some cruise operators go the extra mile to entertain kids with onboard aqua parks and a range of activities themed around popular kids' TV characters. For more organised activities, there are supervised Kids' Clubs serving all age groups.

Then there's the not-to-be-overlooked educational aspect of travel.

A Pacific cruise provides the opportunity for children to meet and make friends with playmates from different backgrounds and countries. Port visits and exotic islands will stimulate the imagination, while the range of cuisines onboard can introduce their taste buds to new experiences.

Best of all, it's easy for families to access, with a huge choice of cruises every year in our South Pacific backyard. Days in port allow you to enjoy plenty of snorkelling and beach time, and you'll only need to unpack your suitcases once. Your home will be a comfortable cabin or family suite onboard a floating resort where every need is catered for. Unpack, relax and enjoy!

Luxury River & Ocean Cruising

Mention cruise holidays to most people, and the image that springs to mind is a huge ship equipped with swimming pools, cinemas and half a dozen restaurants. Typical destinations include idyllic islands or coastal ports.

However, many of the world's most enchanting towns and landscapes lie far from the ocean's edge. They're strung along the world's great rivers and canals, like jewels on a necklace.

Europe is the spiritual home of the river cruise with routes up the Rhine, Seine and Danube as well as charming canal boating in France and the UK. Venture into Russia and you can access the historic heart of the country via the Volga. River cruising is also the time-honoured way to experience the splendours of the Nile, Yangtze, Mississippi, Mekong and Amazon.

A river cruise offers you boutique luxury and a picturesque journey. Alternatively, you can experience true opulence when you opt for an ocean voyage with operators such as Seabourn, Silversea, Regent or Ponant. Indulge yourself with high-end spa facilities and fine dining every day, not to mention spacious balconies, full-size bathrooms and high-thread-count bed linen.

Relaxing sea days contrast with stimulating shore excursions. Don't be surprised if a world-famous author or academic turns up as your tour guide — the top cruise lines will spare no expense to enhance your voyage of discovery.

Whether you prefer to watch a never-ending panorama on a river cruise or travel in high style on the high seas, there are plenty of options to explore. Why not try both?

Feel at home in your own oasis, delight your taste buds with decadent delicacies paired with world class wines and unwind in staterooms designed to blur the line between where the world ends and your room begins. There are endless temptations around every corner and our passion is bringing them to you. The world is full of curiosities and stories just waiting to be shared so go on, Go Live It Luxe!
